Champion®

Champion a better tomorrow

Whether it's in our retail market or branded printwear, we are committed to creating a space where every body can authentically express themselves through their passions and help build up their communities. By being a platform for true expression, offering opportunities for upcycling and using lower-impact materials, we can continue to clear the way for a more sustainable future. Together we can Champion a better tomorrow.

People

We're elevating authentic community for every Champion and cultivating a genuine platform where all people feel accepted and are empowered to freely express their truest selves. We can own this space by developing new ways to support those who are experiencing inequality, building up our team members and supporters, and advancing opportunities for creators to unleash their artistry.

Planet

Collectively we're channeling our creativity into developing new ideas, options and solutions to Champion an eco-future. We believe in prioritizing our planet through finding ways to craft more sustainable products, exploring easily accessible upcycling opportunities, and continually evaluating our manufacturing processes.

Product

We're not afraid to challenge the way things have been done and embrace innovation in order to craft even better products and create a more sustainable tomorrow. For us this means finding new product features to support mental health and people with autism, diving into durability and wash less initiatives, and expanding on options for adaptive apparel.

Champion lifestyle

Work.

The confident style of a Champion doesn't stop on Mondays. From the conference room to the home office, keep the inspired looks going all week long with Champion's best-selling work-ready collection.
